Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicant's arguments are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Hird does not disclose water being added during the out of correctoin process; however, this is merely intended use of the washing machine of Hird. Hird could be used in such a way as to add more water to the load during an imbalance correction process. And because Hird discloses a washing machine with an imbalance sensing and correction capability and it would have been obvious to have the ion eluting capability of Ando et al. for the antibacterial effect, the rejection of record meets all of Applicant's structural limitations. The further claimed limitations are considered to be intended use of the apparatus and are not futher limiting in so far as the structure of the apparatus is concerned and would not be given patentable weight. For these reasons, the rejections of the claims over combinations of Hird, Ando and Jeon are maintained .

Regarding the Information Disclosure Statement filed 06/19/2009, a statement under 37 CFR 1.97(e) has not been submitted and a fee as required by 37 CFR 1.17(p) has not been paid, so the IDS will not be considered.
